Living Compassion

Cemetery Update
Dear Friends,

In his letter to all consecrated people, November 21, 2014, Pope Francis quoted the above words of St. John Paul II as he described the aims of this, the Church’s Year of Consecrated Life. Pope Francis urges those of us in consecrated life to “look to the past with gratitude.” He suggests that our communities reflect on our origins; review our mission and see how the hand of God, through the Spirit, helped us to read the signs of the times and develop our charism to meet the needs of those we served. The Pope suggests that by doing so we are not only reviewing our history, but also grasping “…the high ideals, and the vision and values which inspired [our founders].”

The Pope goes on to state that this Year calls us to “live the present with passion. Grateful remembrance of the past leads us, as we listen attentively to what the Holy Spirit is saying to the Church today, to implement ever more fully the essential aspects of our consecrated life.” Pope Francis reminds us that we must be challenged by the Gospel; “…that the Gospel is demanding: it demands to be lived radically and sincerely…” We have been entrusted with a mission by our Founders and now need to examine our fidelity to this mission in light of the Church and the world today.

Finally, Pope Francis encourages us “to embrace the future with hope.” He speaks of the many difficulties and challenges our communities are facing currently and reminds us, “…But it is precisely amid these uncertainties…that we are called to practice the virtue of hope, the fruit of our faith in the Lord of history, who continues to tell us: ‘Be not afraid…for I am with you.’” (Jeremiah 1:8)

We, Servants of Mary, take the words of the Holy Father to heart. We recognize that we are in a time of transition: planning and praying about how our future will unfold. As communities around the world are doing, we too are using this Church year as one of prayerful reflection. We ponder such questions as: How will we remain a presence in the Church today? How will we, with our diminishing numbers and aging members, continue to promote the Servite charism of the compassionate presence of Jesus as modeled by Mary? How do we recreate ourselves so as to allow the Spirit to continue to do great things in us?

Obviously we cannot answer these questions easily, but we will be addressing them through prayer and community discussion. Please join us in prayerful support of our dialogue with each other. We want to continue to remain a Servite presence in the world today. We count on your support to help us do so.

God bless you all,

Sr. Mary Gehringer, OSM

Super Bowl Ad: A Matter of Perspective
By Maria Farrell, Director of GriefWork: A National Servite Ministry of Compassion

February 1, 2015, a.k.a. Super Bowl Sunday. The hype for the game was only surpassed by the hype of the commercials. The GoDaddy ad featuring a cute puppy was previewed days before it was to air on Super Bowl Sunday. The backlash was immediate. GoDaddy pulled the ad, issued an apology and aired a different commercial on game day. This “preview” got many people talking about puppy mills and cruelty to animals. Perhaps it wasn’t a mistake at all. The ad achieved what it set out to do: get people talking about and remembering GoDaddy.

In the same vain, Nationwide produced an ad that would get people talking! The ad featured a young boy talking about all of the things he couldn’t do because he was dead. WHAT!!!! How could that be? This adorable little boy couldn’t possibly have died! When I saw this ad, I had three reactions: first, I wanted to know how he died; secondly, I wondered about the grieving family he left behind; and thirdly, what a great way to bring attention to common, everyday accident hazards that can, and do, have profound effects, including death.

We aren’t comfortable talking about death, and even more uncomfortable talking about the death of a child. This ad made us think about the unthinkable. It made us feel emotions we didn’t want to feel: shock, anger, and denial that this could really happen, a child could actually die. Finally, many felt relief when the commercial came to an end and we could move on and feel good again. Real grief, however, isn’t like that. It doesn’t just go away after 30 seconds. It doesn’t go away after 30 years. The bereaved don’t “get over it” or “put it behind” them. Every day they try to assimilate their new reality into their everyday lives.

Count the number of times you’ve wondered to yourself, “What could I have done differently to prevent ______ from happening?” You fill in the blank. Sometimes the answer is nothing, and that can be tough to come to grips with. We want to protect our children at all costs. The focus of this ad was to bring attention to the many things that you can do to help prevent common household hazards that may prevent an accidental death. Take a look at the website (www.makesafehappen.com) that Nationwide developed to call attention to these hazards. It wasn’t developed because of the Super Bowl ad campaign. It’s a resource that has been available to anyone searching for ways to “baby proof” their home. It’s quite informative and offers simple, commonsense ways to look at your home and assess how safe it is. There’s even an app for that! Developed in partnership with the safety experts at Nationwide Children’s Hospital and Safe Kids Worldwide (www.safekids.org), the app helps you make your home safer. Get room-by-room safety checklists, link to recommended products, and set reminders.

While many I spoke with felt this was an awful way to sell products, i.e. different types of insurance policies, I viewed it as a great public service announcement. Nationwide isn’t the only company to offer information that would seem to be at odds with the products they sell, and this article should not be seen as an endorsement for Nationwide.

It’s been many years since my husband and I have had small children in our home. Now we’re new grandparents, and this ad drove home the point it intended: there are simple ways to eliminate potential hazards and prevent harm to any child that may be in your home. You can rest assured that we are looking at our home and all of its potential hazards with renewed interest. Really listen to what is being said. Perhaps you’ll have a different perspective too.
Over the course of the past year, I have been shown numerous times the impact that the Servants of Mary have had on the lives of so many people. We receive gifts that enhance our lives and confirm for us that our friends are grateful to the Sisters for all they have done over the years. Whether it was teaching, administration, leading retreats, facilitating and guiding the many ministries we have, praying for our friends through St. Peregrine enrollments or Month of Mary cards, the Sisters had an impact on our lives. In turn, you have responded with gifts of prayer, volunteering and finance.

One type of financial gift that has been utilized over this time frame is a legacy gift. Any individual can create a legacy gift by naming a charity on the beneficiary form of an account such as a savings, checking, or pension account. You can also remember a charity in a will or living trust. There are more complex methods as well, such as a charitable life-income trust. All of these forms of legacy giving demonstrate a powerful and meaningful way for individuals to create a philanthropic legacy for their communities and the causes they care about.

A legacy gift is a way for your philanthropic ideals to carry on with one final gift. It is a way to plan for what happens to your estate and remains your best option to maximize your charitable donations. As previously mentioned, there are many ways of leaving a legacy gift. Here is an explanation of a few of those options.

Beneficiary Designations: The benefactor designates the Servants of Mary as the beneficiary of a life insurance policy, retirement plan or on a savings or checking account. The Servants of Mary would receive these assets upon the death of the benefactor.

Charitable Bequests: A gift to the Servants of Mary is included in the benefactor’s will or living trust. A gift from a benefactor’s estate may include a specific dollar amount, a percentage of the value of the estate, or any other asset such as cars, art, land or financial investments.

Charitable Lead Trust: A donor may designate a charity to receive a fixed amount of money on a regular basis over a specified period of time. At the end of that time, the remainder of the money in the trust goes to the heirs of the deceased.

(As with all charitable giving, there may be tax implications to the donor. Please consult your financial advisor.)

I ask that you prayerfully consider a legacy gift to the Servants of Mary. Your legacy gift will help ensure the continued success of our many programs and outreach to those in need. Your gift will enable us to continue our mission of being a “compassionate presence in the spirit of Mary” to those who rely on us.

End of year tax letters were mailed in January, if you did not receive yours, please contact Tom Marasco at 402-951-3060 or osmdev@osms.org. Your generous gifts allow us to keep moving our mission forward!

By Linda Hess, OSM Director of St. Peregrine Ministry

Mark your calendars now for May 16, 2015, when we will be having our St. Peregrine May Gathering. The feast of St. Peregrine is on May 4th, so we celebrate by having a special gathering. The presentation will be coping with illness and the meaning of healing. Mass will follow at 11:00 AM which will include the Anointing of the Sick. After Mass there will be a luncheon (free will offering) in the Servite Center of Compassion. Know that you are always welcome to visit the St. Peregrine Chapel & the Healing Garden, both at the Servants of Mary, 7400 Military Ave. Omaha, NE.
Cemetery Update
By Tom Marasco, Director of Development

I am very excited to announce that we are moving forward with our Cemetery Renovation project! Through the actions of many generous donors, we have raised the funds necessary to complete the entire project. Thank you to all of you who have helped us reach our financial goal to complete this project. The Sisters are very grateful to all who have contributed and are equally excited to start the process of making the Cemetery a reverent, peaceful and beautiful part of our campus.

In conversations with Dave Ciaccio, our landscape architect, we project an April start and completion in three to five months, weather permitting. According to Dave, the process will involve steps in the following stages: grading, vertical improvements (trees, fences, gates) and then flat improvements. Dave and I will begin meetings to discuss contractors, bids, blueprints, etc in early March. Dave is very excited to bring his vision to our Cemetery and to tie it into the Healing Garden. We will post pictures of the process on our website and social media outlets so that you can follow the process from start to finish.

There are still opportunities to make honorary and memorial donations to the cemetery renovation project. All of the benches, lights along the path, many of the trees and plants, and the gravesite crosses are some examples of items that can be an honorary or memorial donation.

Living Compassion
By Margaret Stratman, OSM, Director of the Servite Center of Compassion

In February as the stores and media surround us with hearts, flowers and candy our thoughts naturally turn to love in anticipation of Valentine’s Day. At the Servite Center of Compassion we have a similar mission. Our offerings help turn our minds and hearts to compassion. As Servants of Mary our charism is to bring a compassionate presence to all that we do.

At the Servite Center of Compassion we strive to help ourselves and others deepen our spirituality of compassion in a number of ways. One of the major ways is through the Boundless Compassion Conference that we began offering in 2008. It is an in depth, 4 day exploration of compassion which has been life changing for most of the participants. Sr. Joyce Rupp, OSM, the primary presenter, will be offering the program at the Servite Center, June 16-20. The brochure is available on our website at www.osms.org. Sr. Joyce has been successfully offering this program around the country for several years.

An offshoot of the Conference has been our Compassion Circles. These circles involve people who have attended the Conference and who wish to meet regularly to continue to share the meaning, expression, and challenge of compassion in their lives.

At the Servite Center we want to apply the spirit of compassion to the social issues that we all live with day in and day out. We do this through the films we choose for our Friday Film Series. We show documentary films such as Blue Gold: World Water Wars, which delves into the dangers of ever greater water scarcity, and inspirational films such as Cesar Chavez, which chronicles the life of this committed labor organizer who brought dignity and justice to so many, and we invite speakers to come and enlighten us about issues, like Stephen Patrick O’Meara, attorney with the Child Exploitation Task Force, who will be speaking to us in March about the horrific and growing scourge of human trafficking right where we live and work. With the Dalai Lama we realize that “Compassion is a necessity, not a luxury. Without it, humanity cannot survive.”

You can check out these & all of our programs at www.osms.org.

If you would like to donate directly to the Servite Center of Compassion to support its programs please mark the box on the provided remittance envelope. All funds designated for the Servite Center will be used to help fund speakers for programs and scholarships for participants.

Our social media sites continue to gain in popularity each quarter. Our numbers are up on both Facebook and Twitter. We are now up to 486 followers on our Facebook page. Like our page and help us get to our next goal of 500 followers. We are at 83 followers on Twitter and hoping to reach 100 in the by the end of March. Please help us spread the word by liking our pages and sharing our posts with your own social networks. With your help, the Sisters can connect with more friends and spread the word about our ministries.

If you are a graduate of a Catholic school in the Detroit, MI area, I invite you to check out www.bishopgallagher.org and the FaceBook group “I Went to Catholic School in Metro Detroit” (search for this group from your FaceBook page). There is a lot of history and great interaction from people you may know.
